

If you are an avid reader of Forbes, Business Insider, or any other business news outlet, you've probably read about the digital transformation of businesses. In this new digital era, almost any industry is fair game for disruption from new entrants and technologies. Thanks to advances in cloud computing, mobile internet, and AI technical adoption – it's never been a better time to launch your own business. Among other countries, Estonia has become a hotspot for startups thanks to its e-Residency program and tech-friendly culture. This article helps you understand if starting a business in Estonia is right for you and if so, we'll guide you through the process step by step. Let's get started!

How to Start a Business in Estonia

Starting a business in Estonia is simple, and you don't need to be physically present in Estonia to do so. In fact, you can start a business in Estonia from just about anywhere in the world. You don't need significant capital to start a business thanks to Estonia's e-Residency program. Anyone can apply for an e-Residency and receive a digital ID that allows them to open a bank account and conduct business in the European Economic Area (EEA) remotely. You can also hire employees.
